Soviet and German Armies Locked in Awful Battle

(By The Associated Press)
German and soviet armies were reported locked in a great new battle today near historic Borodino, where Napoleon crushed the Russians before his entry into Moscow in 1812, and nazi long-range siege guns were said to be already shelling the capital's "outermost defense belt."

As nazi cannon rumbled a few score miles to the west, S. A. Lozovsky, official soviet spokesman, issued this statement of defiance late today:

"Fresh millions have risen for the defense of Moscow. We know the Germans will never capture Moscow."

Lozovsky told newsmen that the German advance had been slowed and even halted in many sectors, asserted that the Germans had not encircled the Red armies before Moscow, as Berlin claimed, and declared that "the gap between the numbers of Russian and German troops at the front is diminishing."

Forecasting a rude awakening for the nazis, Lozovsky said "we can send forces of enormous size of which the Germans have no conception."

London advices said German vanguards had pushed as far as Mzhaisk, only 60 miles west of Moscow, but had been driven back toward Borodino, which lies 10 miles to the west.

Berlin dispatches said the nazi war machine was thundering ever closer to Moscow over the bodies of Russian soldiers who fell as they charged in ranks 15 deep.

Roads and fields were described by the Germans as thick with soviet dead.

Adolf Hitler's high command said 500,000 Red army troops had been taken prisoner so far in the bloody Vyazma and Bryansk sectors, and reported that Russian resistance in the blazing ruins of Vyazma had been definitely "liquidated."

DNB, the official German news agency, said the Russians fired the town and blew up the chief buildings before they retreated.

Liken Moscow to Paris
Germans likened the situation in Moscow to the atmosphere of Paris in June, 1940, just before its surrender, but declared that the soviet capital was heavily fortified and could not claim to be an open city as did Paris.

Blood of Cattle Flows in Human Veins in New Surgical Technique

Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 14—(AP)—Part of the bluest blood of American dairy and beef cattle will soon be flowing in the veins of human beings who require blood transfusions.

This development, dreamed of by scientists since medieval days when whole animal blood was experimented with for transfusions and failed, is an actuality now in part, Dr. M. V. Velde, surgeon of the National Institute of Health, U. S. Public Health Service, told the American Public Health Association today.

Dr. Velde said he has already transfused serum albumin, one of the protein substances found in most animal tissues from cows to human volunteers.

"It has been demonstrated that crystalline serum albumin can be isolated from bovine blood at low cost and it is surprisingly similar to the same fraction from human blood," he declared.

"Limited therapeutic trials up to the present certainly justify the hope that chemically pure bovine serum can be substituted for the corresponding human fraction with equally good therapeutic results and without danger to the recipient."

The albumin alone is not sufficient in the transfusion process but it is one of the most important elements in the blood and other living tissues. An excess or deficiency will cause serious disorders.

Efforts to Settle Strike Holding Up Army Tanks Futile

Walkout in Cleveland May Make 100,000 Idle This Week

By The Associated Press
A deadlock developed today in negotiations to settle an inter-union dispute which has seriously hampered production of army tanks and other combat vehicles.

At the same time, government officials and automobile makers expressed increasing concern over a Cleveland strike which threatened to make 100,000 workers idle by midweek, and labor troubles continued to impede operations at two Gulf coast shipyards.

The trouble over tanks involved two factories in different states, and a dispute between rival unions—the United Automobile Workers C. I. O. and the United Automobile Workers A. F. L.

The U. A. W.-C. I. O. workers at the Spicer Manufacturing Company, Toledo, O., where transmissions are made for 70 per cent of the army tanks, refused to handle parts made by U. A. W.-A. F. L. members at the Hillsdale (Mich.) Steel Products Company, a subsidiary of the Spicer firm.

The Toledo factory also produces transmissions for most of the army's half-tractor and "jeep" combat vehicles.

15-Hour Talk Futile
A settlement conference at Hillsdale broke up early today after 15 hours talk, with an apparent prospect of early agreement.

Federal Mediator J. J. Spillane went back to Washington to report to the U. S. conciliation service.

The C. I. O. union proposed that 11 of their members who were dismissed from the Hillsdale factory last August be reinstated, that the government appoint an impartial referee to pass upon their reinstatement, and that the referee be given jurisdiction in any future disputes.

A spokesman for the A. F. L. group, which won a recent labor board election at Hillsdale, declared "we will not surrender any bargaining rights acquired under law."

Auto Frames Held Up

The threat of unemployment hung over 100,000 automotive workers as a result of the two-week-old strike of C. I. O. workers at the Midland Steel Products Company, Cleveland, maker of automobile frames. Willys-Overland Motors, Inc., at Toledo, was left without frames needed for army "jeeps", part of a $13,000,000 order, and Hudson and Buick officials said they would be forced to slow down passenger car production if the strike was not settled soon.

Studebaker Corporation already has closed its passenger car division, making 6,000 idle.

Mountain Climber Perishes in Cold

Jefferson, N. H., Oct. 14—(AP)—The rugged White mountains, treacherous at this time of year, have claimed the life of husky young man only a week after five-year-old Pamela Hollingworth came forth alive from eight days of wandering on their slopes.

Caught in a blinding snowstorm at an altitude of about 4,000 feet on Mt. Jefferson while on a mountain climbing trip, L. Carl Haberland, 26, Boston salesman, perished yesterday of exhaustion and exposure.

Experienced mountaineers rescued eight other members of his party, including two women, after three men in the group fought their way through the storm to summon aid.

The party had ascended to Mt. Jefferson's 5,725-foot peak when it encountered rain, snow and sub-freezing temperatures.

The combination of the storm and the rarified air felled Haberland. His companions attempted to carry him, but became exhausted themselves and wrapped him in a sleeping bag and placed him in the lee of a cliff, where five of them tried to keep him warm while the others went for help.

SOLDIERS' FOOD TIED UP

St. Louis, Oct. 14—(AP)—Midwest army camps didn't receive accustomed food shipments from this city's three largest cold storage plants today.

Perishable food—50,000,000 pounds of it—was tied up by a strike of 115 freight handlers. Included were poultry, eggs, meat, fruits and vegetables.

H. A. Steinmeyer, a plant manager, said the warehouses normally shipped several carloads of food each day to army training camps, while much of the frozen meat and eggs went to England.

The handlers, who receive 61 to 70 cents an hour, are reported seeking a flat 14-cents-an-hour wage boost.

4,500 Troopers From Camp Forrest Given Furloughs—15 Days

Camp Forrest, Tenn., Oct. 14—(AP)—A 15 day furlough began today for 4,500 Illinois troopers at Camp Forrest.

Most of the contingent, like that of 4,500 who departed Saturday, traveled home by special train.

Nine thousand other members of the 33rd division will be granted leaves when they now on furlough return to camp.

Maj. Gen. Samuel T. Lawton said that troops remaining here would be kept busy cleaning equipment and repairing guns and motor vehicles. The training schedule will emphasize close order drill and marksmanship. Basic subjects in each unit will be required to hold two reviews weekly.

READY FOR SEA DUTY

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 14—(AP)—There's a thief somewhere in this vicinity who is fully equipped for sea duty. Harry K. Gibson, sailor home on leave, reported to police that his duffel-bag was taken from a parked automobile.

"It contained my service clothes", Gibson said.

Time Out

Eldorado, Ill., Oct. 14—(AP)—Every one enjoyed a good rest during the Eldorado-Metropolis high school football game.

The game began Friday night, just before halftime intermission the lights failed. An hour or so later officials called time until yesterday afternoon when play was resumed. Eldorado won 18 to 6. Statistics at Eldorado believe the longest time out in football history thus was created.

Railroads' Offer Unsatisfactory to Heads Two Unions

Chicago, Oct. 14—(AP)—Heads of two of the 19 railroad unions which have called a strike to enforce wage demands characterized as unsatisfactory today a management "plan of emergency compensation" for the carriers' 1,260,000 organized employees.

The plan was submitted by F. G. Gurley, chairman of the carriers' conference committee, to President Roosevelt's fact finding board yesterday.

It would increase by 6 per cent earnings up to $30 a week or $65 on semi-monthly payrolls, effective Nov. 1, and amount to $95,004,000 if it remained in effect a year.

It would be based on a formula relating changes in the index of living costs to the trend in railroad gross revenues and would operate through Dec. 31, 1942, with any necessary adjustments to be made quarterly.

Present basic wages floor would serve as a floor; a ceiling would be fixed at not more than a 15 per cent increase on the first $30 a week of earnings.

George M. Harrison, president of the Railway Clerks Union, termed it a "bonus plan" which is defective in its operation and unsound as a means of adjusting wage rates.

Harrison said it "ignores all other relevant factors in wage fixing and perpetuates inequalities of treatment compared with other wage earners who now enjoy wage increases."

A. F. Whitney, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, attacked the method of computation.

The five operating brotherhoods have asked for a 30 per cent increase while the 14 non-operating have asked for raises of from 30 to 34 cents an hour.

Nazis Say Total of Russian Prisoners is Now Above 3 Millions

Berlin, Oct. 14—(AP)—The total of Russian prisoners in the war in the east now has risen above 3,000,000 and is still increasing, the German government announced today.

It was further stated that the equivalent of 300 Russian divisions at full war strength had been captured, killed or wounded. According to this estimate, which assumed that each division numbered 20,000 men, 6,000,000 Russian soldiers thus have been put out of action.

(The Berlin radio reported that the total of prisoners taken in the Vyazma and Bryansk "encirclements" had risen to more than 500,000.)

Veteran Nebraska Senator Airs His Views on Far East

Talks as Two Closed Hearings Get Under Way in Capital

Washington, Oct. 14—(AP)—Senator Norris (Ind.Neb.) declared today that an American-Japanese conflict in the Pacific might develop "quick as a wink" if Germany should defeat soviet Russia, and he added he was "not so sure that war with Japan would be a bad thing for us."

The 80-year-old legislator, only remaining member who cast a senate vote against entry into the last World War, said that a German victory over Russia might lead Japan to interfere with American shipping in the Pacific.

The United States, he asserted, would not tolerate any such interference, and he disclosed that navy officials had advised him "they could sink the Japanese fleet within two weeks."

"Although they may be a little optimistic," he said, "I believe we could like them (the Japanese). It would be a sea and air war, and it would not be a question of sending an army."

"A navy man told me that our bombers could set the whole island ablaze in one night, because Japanese cities are built of wood and are just so much tinder."

Norris made these observations to newsmen as a senate appropriations subcommittee started closed hearings on the house-approved $5,985,000,000 additional lease-lend appropriation, part of which may be used to help Russia.

President Roosevelt in a statement yesterday said that large amounts of supplies already were en route to Russia and that munitions promised the soviet for October delivery—including tanks, planes and trucks—would be sent to the U. S. S. R. before the end of the month.

Meanwhile John E. Finerty, New York attorney appearing as the first witness against proposals to permit the arming of merchant ships, denounced the idea today as "a means of involving us in this war."

Finerty, who said he once represented Eamon de Valera, now head of the government of Eire, told the house foreign affairs committee that the three American ships sunk so far—the Robin Moor, the Steel Seafarer and the Sessa—were carrying contraband. He asserted they were not sunk without warning.

Will Advise Arias Keep from Panama

Panama, Panama, Oct. 14—(AP)—Panama's ousted president, Arnulfo Arias, arrived in Cristobal from Cuba today aboard the Honduran steamer Cefalu with the avowed intention of returning to his homeland, where a bloodless coup last Thursday overthrew his regime.

When the steamer docked, however, Arias remained in his cabin. His first act was to reject a demand for his formal resignation.

Galileo Solis, who had been Arias' contact man in the old regime, brought a document of registration for the ex-president to sign but he refused.

United States officials said Arias would not be detained if he came ashore in Cristobal, but it appeared he would not be permitted to remain long in the Canal Zone because of immigration restrictions.

It was believed certain, however, that Arias would be arrested immediately if he set foot in Panama. Representatives of the Panama government, who arrived in Cristobal by train last night, conferred at length with United States authorities, and it was believed they would advise Arias not to attempt to return home.

Famous '75's', Backbone of World War Artillery, Assume New Roles

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 14—(AP)—The famous old "75's" that were the backbone of allied artillery in the first World War are being mechanized as heavy tank-killers for the U. S. army.

These powerful rifle cannon are being transferred from field artillery organizations and replaced with 105-millimeter howitzers, Col. Richard C. Burleson, Second Army anti-tank officers, said today.

"The 7's are capable of throwing out 20 shells a minute, and they'll stop the biggest of tanks," declared Col. Burleson. "Moreover, they're easy to move."

Rudolf Hess

London, Oct. 14—(AP)—Rudolf Hess, one-time No. 2 deputy of Adolf Hitler, is under guard of British non-commissioned officers "and other ranks" and gets the same rations as the guards, War Secretary H. D. R. Margesson said today.

He declined to say whether Hess was "living in some villa or big house", but asserted Hess "certainly is getting no pay" during his detention since he was picked up in Scotland where he bailed out of a Messerschmitt on a mysterious flight from Germany May 10.

Further inquiries as to Hess' actual whereabouts and habits were sidestepped.

Early Release of Grover Bergdoll, Draft Dodger, Seen

Washington, Oct. 14—(AP)—Early release of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, widely publicized World War draft dodger, from the United States Army disciplinary barracks at Fort Leavenworth, Kas., was indicated today in a request by Attorney General Biddle for dismissal of 23-year-old indictments pending against him and other persons.

The justice department announced that Gerald A. Gleason, United States Attorney at Philadelphia, had been instructed to ask dismissal of the old indictment, returned between July, 1918, and June, 1920, under the 1917 selective service act.

It was learned simultaneously that the existence of the old charges was brought to the attention of the attorney general by a letter from a high war department official stating that Bergdoll had asked for a parole and inquiring, as is customary practice, whether any charges still were pending against him.

Bars Release
The official explained that if any charges were pending, the army would be prohibited from granting him a release.

The attorney general was said to have looked into the matter and, finding the old indictments to have decided that they should be removed since the justice department did not intend to prosecute them.

Bergdoll is serving a seven and one-half year sentence imposed by military courts for desertion, escape and draft evasion.

He originally was sentenced in 1917, but escaped at Philadelphia in May, 1920, and fled to Germany by way of England. He returned voluntarily in May, 1939, was seized aboard ship, and later in the year sentenced by a military court.

Freeport Army Flier Killed in Crash in Philippines Monday

Manila, Oct. 14—(AP)—Second Lieut. James H. Weaver, 28, of Freeport, Ill., was killed last yesterday when his army plane collided with another pursuit ship and crashed.

The collision occurred at a low altitude shortly after the takeoff from Clark field at Camp Stotsenburg, Pangasinan province. The other plane landed safely at the field.

Weaver, who is the son of Mrs. Preston A. Body of Freeport, came to the Philippines last February from Kelly Field, Texas.

Weaver was a graduate of the New Mexico Military Institute and five weeks ago was married to Katherine Wolfe, daughter of Col. and Mrs. Shuey Wolfe. Col. Wolfe is a coast artilleryman on duty in Hawaii.

GREEN ROTARIAN

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 14—(AP)—Governor Green became a member of Rotary International last night at a banquet of the Springfield Rotary club.

In a talk that followed his initiation, the governor said:

"I know of no better avenue to serve one's community than through Rotary. If everyone in the world lived up to the objectives of Rotary, we would have a greater era of civilization."

Drastic Shakeup Result of Shortcomings Seen in War Maneuvers

Washington, Oct. 14—(AP)—A long list of field officers, ranging from second lieutenants to major generals, have been relieved of their commands by the army since the Louisiana war games, and military quarters heard today that the early removal of numerous others was likely.

The officers who have been superseded in combat posts represent the first to feel the effects of stern war department efforts to revitalize the leadership of the land forces.

In point of numbers involved, the shakeup has been matched in army history only by the wholesale World War removals of A. E. F. officers in France by a process which the army grimly termed "going bloozy" because the reclassification board which judged officers' merits sat at Blois.

Anxious lest morale be shaken, the war department thus far has shifted the top commanders as quietly as possible.

Seek to Avoid "Mess"
General George C. Marshall, chief of staff, said in disclosing the original intention to remove officers deemed incapable of maintaining strict discipline and handling troops to the best advantage that it was hoped to avoid "stirring up a political mess" and also "the bitterness and recrimination" of the World War.

In military quarters it was considered inevitable that the reshuffling process should be largely at the expense of National Guard and reserve officers. As a class they have much less military experience than the professional regulars. The burden on commanders of guard divisions tends to be extra hard also because subordinates likewise are only part-time soldiers. Three Guard divisions heads and one Corps commander have been relieved.

Records made in the Louisiana maneuvers were used as a gauge of the ability of officers to direct the operations of troops under conditions approximating as closely as possible those of actual war. Commanders of major units taking part in the current first army war games in the Carolinas also are under close scrutiny.

Lawyer Plunges to Death During Night

Evanston, Ill., Oct. 14—(AP)—Walter B. Smith, 71, a partner in the Chicago law firm of Woods, Smith & Blumenfeld, plunged to his death from his fifth floor apartment during the night.

Investigators said they could not determine immediately whether he leaped or fell. He was survived by his widow and a daughter, Janet Katherine, who is a professor of home economics at Iowa State College, Ames, Ia.

Despondency Over Health Cause of Suicide in Amboy

Despondency over the condition of his health is believed to have caused the suicide of Steven J. Parker of Amboy, whose body was found lying on the floor of the garage at his home, 126 South Davis avenue, yesterday afternoon. L. E. Fordham, a neighbor, observed smoke pouring from the garage and upon investigation discovered Parker's lifeless body on the floor of the garage in the rear of the car, the motor of which was running. A heavy coat over the head of the suicide victim and the muffler of the car indicated that he planned to end his life by inhaling monoxide gas fumes.

An inquest was conducted late yesterday afternoon at the Vaughn mortuary, the jury finding that death resulted from monoxide gas poisoning with suicidal intent. The condition of the body indicated that the victim had been dead about an hour before the body was discovered.

Native of Compton
Parker was born in Compton, Aug. 3, 1885 the son of William and Catherine Doran Parker. He is survived by his widow; three sisters, Mrs. Florence Lamb of Stafford, Kas., Mrs. Ivy Abell of Aurora and Mrs. August Chaon of Elburn. Funeral services will be held at the home Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 and at the Amboy Methodist church at 2 o'clock.

Interment will be in Prairie Repose cemetery, Illinois Central lodge, A. F. & A. M. conducting the committal service at the grave.

Of Interest to Farmers

FRANK PRIEBE'S WEEKLY LETTER to POULTRY RAISERS

Dear Friends:

The U. S. Army is doing its marketing early.

This week army buyers asked for bids on Thanksgiving turkeys. They are buying them by the carload for camps all over the country.

This morning's papers carried a story saying that next year the army would use 50 million pounds of poultry—and a good part of that will undoubtedly be turkeys, because the men whose business it is to feed the army, like the restaurant men, have discovered that at present prices they get more meat for a dollar from turkeys than from any other type of poultry.

That's why turkeys are so popular with the "quantity" buyers. And since they like big turkeys, the young toms are again bringing a premium over the hen turkeys.

Growers are getting about a dollar a bird more than last year!

Sell Only Mature Turkeys

None of us can forget the storm last Armistice Day when turkeys were lost by the hundred thousands. And, although it's said that lightning never strikes twice in the same place, I'm sure that as long as anyone remembers that experience, he'll be on guard against the weather.

It's a good idea to be prepared. (Copyright, October 16, 1941, Frank Priebe, 110 N. Franklin, Chicago)

But it's not a good idea to sell turkeys that aren't ready for market, just to get them off your hands.

It always happens that a lot of turkeys are sold at Thanksgiving that should not be sold until Christmas. They simply aren't "ripe". Buyers are disappointed in the quality and any woman who has to spend 3 or 4 hours pinning a turkey for her Thanksgiving dinner is not a likely prospect for a Christmas turkey.

If you think I'm exaggerating you should see some of these immature birds when they are dressed and hanging in the shops. That's when you begin to understand how they can hurt the market for all turkeys.

I don't think most growers realize how serious this problem is or what a direct effect it has on the market.

I'm sure you know the difference between turkeys that are fully matured and those that aren't. All I can do is urge you to hold them until they are really R.I.P.E.

That one thing will do more anything else I can think of to increase the demand for turkeys and improve the market generally.

Sincerely yours,
Frank Priebe

Successful Young Lee County Farmer

Shown above is Donald Schafer with his outstanding purebred Shropshire ram lamb. This ram has won five successive firsts and a grand championship at the surrounding county fairs this year.

Donald has had four successful years of F. F. A. work at Ashton high school. His projects have included Guernsey cattle and Shropshire sheep. This year he was awarded special honor of having second in dairy project, third in sheep and second in all-around project work in Lee County.

Lee County's Food Production Goals For 1942 Are Announced by Rosenkrans

Food production goals at which Lee County farmers will aim during 1942 under the U. S. Department of Agriculture's "food for freedom" program have been announced by Dale D. Rosenkrans, chairman of the county USDA defense board.

The goals have been established for each county by a committee composed of A. J. Surratt, senior agricultural statistician for Illinois, Martin Sorkin, state AAA statistician, and Prof. E. M. Hughes of the University of Illinois, College of Agriculture. The committee was appointed by the Illinois Agriculture Defense Board.

Lee county farmers will be called upon to increase production of cattle, hogs, milk, eggs, rye, soybeans and barley; maintain present production of corn, and reduce production of wheat and oats under the farm program.

To Call Meeting

Mr. Rosenkrans said he would call a meeting of the county USDA defense board soon to work out plans for reaching the food production goals. The board is made up of representatives of all U. S. Department of Agriculture agencies in the county.

AAA community committees will begin a farm-to-farm canvass by the middle of October seeking pledges from farmers to increase the production of needed foods. This canvass will be conducted in conjunction with the 1942 AAA farm program sign-up.

Increased food production is sought by the Department of Agriculture next year to meet a larger domestic demand, to supply democracies in the world, and to supplant imports which have been cut off as a result of the war.

The goals for Lee county, with a 1941 production comparison, are as follows:

Lee County 1942 Goals
	1941	1942			Per cent
	Production	Goals	Increase		Increase
Milk cows	19,200	19,400	200		1.5

Eggs (doz.)	1,708,400	1,828,000	119,600		7.0
Hogs (lbs.)	26,150,000	27,214,000	1,064,000		4.1

Lee County Farm Men Can Start Now Earning Payments

Dale D. Rosenkrans, Chairman of the Lee county Agricultural Conservation Committee advises that Lee County farmers can now start earning their soil building payment in connection with the 1942 farm program.

The 1942 Agricultural Conservation Program stresses the importance of soil building practices and more soil building will have to be done in 1942 to earn maximum payment. The soil building payments are earned by seeding of alfalfa and clover and by the application of limestone and phosphate.

As in 1941, limestone and phosphate can be purchased through the conservation association. Rock phosphate will be available in 1942. If a cooperator in the program wishes to purchase limestone or phosphate, he places his order at the conservation office. The order is placed by the conservation association with the contractor having the contract in his township. Payment is made through the conservation association to the contractor as soon as the limestone or phosphate is received by the purchaser and the amount paid will be deducted from the 1942 conservation check.

A number of Lee county farmers will recall the inconvenience of getting limestone spread last spring and this fall. A number of farmers placed orders during the spring, expecting to have it spread during the spring; but due to wet fields, this could not be done and on account of the great amount of limestone ordered throughout the county, the quarries could not supply all orders in the fall.

Mr. Rosenkrans urges all farmers to place their orders for limestone as soon as possible. By putting the limestone on this winter, the land will benefit sooner, the contractor will be in a position to spread it when and where wanted as the ground will be more solid than in the spring, and last but not least, Mr. Rosenkrans points out—the farm will have its soil building payment earned and payments will not be held up next fall waiting for limestone or phosphate.

Project Winners in Ogle County Are Chosen

Ogle county project honor members and outstanding members in agricultural 4-H club work were chosen by a committee of leaders last week and are as follows:

Project honor members, in the pig project, Marvin Muller, Glyndon Stiff, Orville Ohlwin, Gerald Fager, Orval Schoonhoven, Donald Stengel, Eugene Greenwald, Gaylin Cross; in the sheep project, Henry Johnson, Lyle Deuth, Grayson Johnson; dairy project, Kenneth Mumma, Keith Coffman; beef project, Clarence Stauffer, Craig King, Donald Unger, Calvin Borneman, Carroll Coffman and Richard Adams.

County outstanding members: Glen Boreman, Carroll Coffman, Gavin Cross, Donald Unger, Henry Johnson, Kenneth Mumma, Homer Knight, Clarence Stauffer, Glyndon Stiff, and Donald Stengel.

It was explained by Farm Advisor Warren that project honor members were chosen as having the best projects for the year 1941. The outstanding members were those whose records in all projects carried were best throughout the entire time they had been club members and their general activity in club work was considered as well as their projects.

Illinois Counties Get $1,052,238 of Gas Tax

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 14—(AP)—Illinois counties were allotted $1,052,238 as their share of September motor fuel tax collections, the state department of finance announced Monday. The gross allotment was $1,346,363 but $211,083 was deducted as reserve for the $20,000,000 relief bond issue and $83,041 as reserve for the $30,000,000 relief bond issue.

More than one-sixth of all retail dollar volume of U. S. service stations in 1939 came from services and merchandise other than gasoline and oil.

Ratmeyer Herd Leads Report in Ogle County

A herd of 11 G & R. H. cows owned by Clarence Ratmeyer led the Ogle County Dairy Herd association for September with an average production of 1,299 pounds of milk and 44.5 pounds of fat on two times a day milking. None of the 11 cows was dry. The four other high test producing herds were as follows:

L. M. Gentry 35 R. H. 901 milk 36.0 fat
Forrest Gillespie 18 R. H. 885 milk 33.5 fat
Bulford Holstein Farm 17 G & R. H. 853 milk 32.9 fat

Soil Conservation Meeting Is Held In Oregon Office

The first meeting of leaders regarding the organization of a soil conservation district in Ogle county was held in the Farm Bureau office at Oregon October 10 with 40 men present representing nearly all townships in the county. Mr. E. D. Walker, University of Illinois explained the purposes of a soil conservation district and how it might be secured to give Ogle county farmers a permanent organization through which they might receive assistance of soil conservation technicians in working out their soil conservation problems.

These leaders will assist in local meetings where the plan will be explained and will later circulate petitions to be signed by land owners asking for a hearing before the state committee which will give an opportunity for anyone to express his opinion for or against the plan.

Mr. Walker likened the plan to a soil conservation cooperative similar to other cooperative organizations managed by a board of directors chosen by the farmers themselves and which they could use or not just as they choose. The fact that soil conservation work has been carried on in the county for two years with the help of federal technicians has given Ogle county farmers a pretty good idea of what the service would be like and it has been universally acceptable according to Frank Coffman chairman of the soil conservation district committee.

B. & O. Streamliner Slides Into Freight

Chillicothe, O., Oct. 14—(AP)—Eight persons, including Postmaster General Frank Walker, were injured Monday when the streamlined "National Limited" of the Baltimore & Ohio slid into a freight locomotive at a siding 24 miles east of here in Jackson county.

Walker, accompanied by his wife, who was uninjured, was treated for a slight head abrasion by the train's stewardess-nurse.

Italy has devised a fancy new warplane gun-aimer that automatically synchronizes the speed of the enemy plane and the velocity of the bullets.

Census Gives Figures On Ownership and Mortgages on Farms

Interesting figures concerning agriculture have been found in the 16th census of the United States taken in 1940. The booklets containing them have been received from the census department at Washington, D. C. A summary of these affecting Bureau, Carroll, Henry, Lee, Ogle, and Whiteside counties has been gleaned and follows:

Bureau county. Farms operated by owners, 1,302; farms free from mortgages, 573; farm mortgaged, 628; proportion of farms mortgaged 48.2 per cent. No mortgages reported 101.

Carroll county. Farms operated by owners, 810; farms free from mortgage, 339; mortgaged farms, 407; proportion of mortgaged farms, 50.2 per cent. No mortgage report, 64.

Henry county. Farms operated by owners, 561; farms free from mortgage, 674; proportion of farms mortgaged, 50.2. No mortgage report 108.

Lee county. Farms operated by owners, 1,064; free from mortgage, 395; farms mortgaged 625; proportion of mortgage farms 68.7 per cent; no mortgage report 44.

Ogle county. Farms operated by owners, 1,341; farms free from mortgage, 572; farm mortgaged, 654; proportion of farms mortgaged, 48.8. No mortgage report 115.

Whiteside county. Farms operated by owners, 1,132; farms free from mortgage, 430; farms mortgaged, 618; proportion of farms mortgaged, 54.6 per cent. No mortgage report, 84.

Farm Tax Levies

The farm tax levies levied in 1939 were for Bureau county on farm real estate was $88,640; the average tax per acre was 94 cents; taxes paid for $100 of value were 83 cents. For Carroll county real estate taxes on farm lands were $89,918; average tax per acre, 29 cents; taxes per $100 of value were $1.18. For Henry county real estate taxes on farm lands were $27,547; the average tax per acre was $1.37; taxes per $100 of value were $1.32. For Lee county the amount of taxes on farm lands was $27,100; average tax per acre was $1.17; taxes per $100 of value were $1.12. For Ogle county the amount of taxes on farm lands was $22,918; the average tax per acre was $1.25. For Whiteside county the amount of taxes on farm lands was $13,214; the average tax per acre was $1.16; taxes per $100 of value was $1.17.

Production Goals for Ogle County Are Announced

Ogle county goals for farm production in the national defense program were announced at a meeting at Oregon recently under the direction of the county defense board.

It was pointed out at this meeting that there is a definite need of increased production of certain products and that to get this production the government is supporting the price by their purchases. It was shown that at a time of rising prices such as is the case at present there can be a good margin of profit and that it should be to farmers interests to produce abundantly at this time.

It was shown also that there is a definite need of better diets for many farm families. The additional production can be made without depleting soil resources if proper conservation methods are used.

It was pointed out too that now is a time to reduce indebtedness rather than expand capital investment and that to use part of this farm income to purchase defense bonds would be a sound means of creating financial reserve.

Those who took part in the program represented the county defense board, the Agricultural Extension Service, the Farm Securities Administration, Production Credit Association, Farm Loan Association, Soil Conservation Service, Agricultural Conservation Association, Ogle County National Bank and the Ogle County Home Bureau and Farm Bureau.

The period required for cleaning out an overhauled engine by turning the engine over with the starter and with the ignition turned off is usually about 20 seconds.

Orgtisen Buys Herd of 200 Texas Cattle

A shipment of 200 head of yearling herefords arrived in Dixon over the week end and were hauled to the Ort Orgtisen stock farm in Palmyra township. The cattle were shipped direct from Amarillo, Texas to the Harry Orgtisen farm west of Dixon.

The last of the fat Hereford cattle on the Orgtisen farm, which have been fattened for the past several months, left Ort Acres yesterday to be trucked to Chicago. The finished animals averaged about 1,350 pounds apiece and in Chicago were loaded on cars for shipment direct to New York City where they have been sold. The herd was one of the finest that has ever been developed in Lee county.

IOWA VISITOR IS HONORED

Mrs. Otto Bannick of Maassena, Iowa was guest of honor at a picnic dinner, served Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Friedrichs and daughter Helen. Twenty-two relatives and friends were present.

Mrs. Bannick formerly resided east of Prairieville, and is remembered by older residents of the community as the former Miss Kate Behrends. She has been spending some time with her aunt, Mrs. Herman Friedrichs, and has also been visiting other relatives in Sterling, Rock Falls and Dixon.

Games were pastime for the younger guests, following the dinner. In attendance were Mrs. Herman Friedrichs, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Rank, Lois Richard and Leona Rank, Miss Arline Summers of Sterling, Mr. and Mrs. John Bannick and daughter of Rock Falls, Harry Friedrichs and son Wayne, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Behrends, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Behrends and granddaughters Beverly and Joyce Null of Gap Grove, Mrs. Otto Bannick, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Friedrichs and daughter Helen, and Marion Meyers of Emmerson.

Historical Group Will Open Season With Pilgrimage

Members of the Lee County Historical society will open their 1941-42 season on Sunday with an all-day program of short talks and pilgrimages to sites of Indian villages in the Rock river valley, between Dixon and Oregon. Lunch will be served at Grand Detour, and those desiring reservations are asked to notify Mrs. Theodore J. Goe at phone No. 914, not later than Friday.

The society members will meet in the music room of Dixon high school at 9 a. m. After brief talks by Mrs. H. C. Warner, J. B. Lennon, and Enos Keithley, the group will set out on their autumn pilgrimage. Anyone interested in the day's program is invited to attend.

Several points not open to visitors will be opened to the society on this occasion, including the home of Pierre La Salle, a pioneer fur trader, at Franklin Creek, and an Indian trail near Blackhawk statue.

SYLVESTER SANFORD

Elgin Pianist Delights Dixon Music Lovers

A remarkable recital was given here last evening by a remarkable woman, as tribute to a great artist, whose death is still being mourned throughout the world. Last evening's performance was by Miss Stella Hecker, whose name has been associated with musical history in Elgin for years, and the master pianist she honored was the late Ignace Paderewski, a personal friend, for whom she played as a child and has never forgotten the inspiration received from hearing and knowing the great musician.

Members of the Troubadette women's chorus were sponsors for Miss Hecker's Dixon concert, presented in the Loveland Community House auditorium. And those who listened carried away with them the sense of having shared with Miss Hecker her joy in the world of music—a joy that is pregnant with rich memories, in addition to an inherited power all her own. (Her father, Joseph Hecker, early became famous as director of the Prince of Wales Regiment band).

A group of the great pianist's own compositions were played first last evening, and as she took her place at the keyboard, she seemed to have come into the room directly from the days when she took the examination at the Royal Academy in London. In further tribute to Paderewski, she dressed as she did when as a young girl she last played for him. (When she first played for the great master, she was so small that she was lifted to a chair in order that she might be seen by her audience, while Paderewski was commending her performance).

Even in her descriptions, when only a few chords were struck, something lovely came from the piano. The Paderewski group was followed by compositions of Bach, Beethoven, Mendelssohn, Chopin, Grieg, Henselt, Rubinstein, Macdowell, Debussy, Liszt, and others, with encore after encore following the planned program. Responding graciously to the enthusiastic approval of her audience, Miss Hecker continued playing for two and a half hours or longer, as thoughts of a Chopin Etude or some other classic came to her mind.

There is a fine intimacy between Miss Hecker and the piano, and she demonstrates a thorough understanding of her art. And there is a delightful element of surprise in her performance, for she changes so rapidly from lilting melodies and dances to more serious and dramatic compositions.

Undoubtedly, Miss Hecker's piano concerts are different from most other piano recitals one hears. Not only has she rare gifts as a pianist, but she also possesses the ability to prepare her audience for complete enjoyment of classical music without any previous knowledge of music on their part.

Mrs. Earl Auman, president of the chorus, introduced the pianist. Following her program, her sponsors were entertaining with an informal reception in her honor.

LUNCHEON HOSTESS

Miss Grace Crawford entertained at luncheon today. Mrs. Roy Ide of Springfield was an out of town guest.

Leaf River Couple Is Wed 57 Years

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Marks

Mr. and Mrs. Marks, who are pioneer residents of Ogle county, and two of the oldest residents of Leaf River, will celebrate their fifty-seventh wedding anniversary on Wednesday. Open house will not be observed this year, but friends are welcome to call during the day.

Mrs. Marks was born in Greencastle, Pa., on Sept. 14, 1866, the daughter of Oliver and Sarah Canode. At the age of ten years, she accompanied her parents to Leaf River, settling on a farm northwest of the village. Her father built the first dwelling in Leaf River, and she cared for the first infant born in the village, the child of her sister, the late Mrs. Anna Greer of Mt. Morris.

Mr. Marks was born April 14, 1863, at Lightsville. He was the foster son of Robert and Miranda Marks.

The couple were married on Oct. 15, 1884, by the Rev. T. F. Reeser, at the parsonage of the Evangelical Lutheran church in Freeport. For a year, they resided on a farm near Leaf River, and for the past 56 years, have been residents of Leaf River.

Both are in fairly good health. Mr. Marks follows events of the day closely in the daily newspaper, and although failing eyesight prevents Mrs. Marks from reading, she, too, is well-informed on present-day happenings by the radio.

Mr. and Mrs. Marks are the parents of six children, including Mrs. Jessie Bain of Byron, Lyle B. Marks of Forreston, Mrs. Lydia Rowe of Oregon, Mrs. Dollie Emy of Mt. Morris, and Carl O. and Harold H. Marks of Leaf River. There are also 13 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren. Mrs. Marks has one brother, Howard P. Canode, who resides in Amarillo, Tex.

Children and grandchildren of the couple and their families have been invited to the Marks home for a scramble supper this evening, on the eve of the couple's anniversary.

Girls' 4-H Clubs End Summer With Brilliant Record

All 12 4-H clubs for girls of Lee county finished the summer's program with a splendid achievement record and a 92 percent "finish-up," according to a review compiled by the Home Bureau office. Of the 166 girls enrolled, 153 completed the season's projects.

Handbooks were scored by 4-H leaders, Miss Mary McKee, 4-H specialist from the University of Illinois, and Miss Marian Symphon, home adviser. Eighteen girls were chosen as honor project champions of the county, including Faye Jeanblanc, Nexa Moeller, Mary Eisenrich, Joan Shearer, Phyllis Hanson, Marjorie Chao, Norma Eddy, Evelyn Sondergoth, Jean Cooke, Helen Ford, Mary Jane Harden, Muriel Smith, Geraldine Knetsch, June Baker, Virginia Dodd, Daisy Salzman, Charlotte Bothe, and Viola Fundell.

Fourteen girls, whose work has been excellent for the past three years or longer, have been listed as outstanding members. They include Kathryn Herrmann, Virginia Herrmann, Joyce Thorpe, Lydia Heath, Eleanor Schlesinger, Elaine Schlesinger, Corda Rogers, Isabelle Schmidt, Dorothy Degner, Ruth Ann Avenarius, Minerva Pfoutz, Roberta Hoelscher, Ruth Meppen, and Betty Hill.

As a 4-H club member, 153 girls developed a project, under the direction of a local leader, that taught or demonstrated an improved practice in personal or family living. In addition to the girls listed above, the following were listed as achievement girls:

Doris John, Roberta Hoelscher, Daisy Salzman, Alvera Partington, Charlotte Bothe, Naomi Bollman, Stella Mae Carson, Helen Board, June Baker, Janet Hoyle, Ruth Cornils, Elaine Schlesinger, Doris Hackman, Muriel Smith, Eleanor Schlesinger, Patricia Boyle, Joanne Drueger, Carol Coss, Jean Cooke, Corda Rogers, Marjorie Rosenkrans, Geraldine Knetsch, Charlene Wakeley, Darlene Burkett, Betty Barlow, Dorothy Barlow.

A Thought for Today
With men it is impossible, but not with

—Mark 10:27.

Inflation and Insurance
Economists have used reams of paper writing definitions of inflation. They go into the differences between currency inflation, credit inflation and price inflation, and so forth. But for the average man—the one with the dinner pail—inflation is any process which makes his dollar buy less than it used to buy.

Many persons have houses, automobiles, furniture and a trifle in the bank. But millions who have these properties look upon their life insurance as their most substantial asset. The house may burn. The car is not eternal and the amount in the bank, mayhap, is not as large as the sum represented by the insurance policy. Most people have quite thinking of insurance money as something they must die to obtain. Instead, they are living to get it.

Dr. Marcus Nadler of New York university, has warned insurance executives they ought to do something to help prevent inflation. He warns that if inflation comes, and the people can't buy as much with their insurance money as they planned, they will blame the insurance companies. They will blame them even though insurance firms had nothing to do with the threatened inflation.

We once heard a policy holder say that if inflation comes, so that a dollar will buy only 25 cents worth of goods as measured in today's prices,
the insurance companies ought to pay four times
the face value of their policies.

An insurance agent who participated in the conversation asked this policy holder what he would think if insurance companies, in a period of deflation, wanted to pay off in "commodity dollars" instead of according to face value.

The agent argued further that if insurance companies are expected to go into the commodity dollar business, then policy holders, during period of inflation, ought to pay premiums according to the deflated value of the dollar. Bookkeeping, however, does not lend itself readily to such arrangements. Nor does the mind grasp easily all the problems involved.

Some one ought to undertake a program to educate the people about the evils of inflation.
Really, it is not inflation at all. It is deflation of the value of the dollar.

How Much Do You Earn?
Senator Pepper of Florida, who sometimes is regarded as an administration spokesman, said last August that within two years the government will be spending 100 billion dollars a year on lease-lend and defense, and that the total cost of the struggle will be 300 billions assessed against the United States.

In our palmiest days the national income never was more than $5 billions. The debt now is approaching an average year's income. Pepper's projected spending jag would take more than the income of three more years.

How will the national credit stand the drain?
It seems to mean that the average man is going to be assessed half or more of his income for taxes before this thing is completed, if Pepper is correct. How much do you earn?

All this springs from an administration that took office with a pledge to reduce taxes and balance the budget.

Penny Wise
Americans are carefully conserving their health
only to throw their lives away on the streets.

That is a trend pointed out by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., which shows reduced mortality among its policy-holders in major cities, indicating excellent health conditions. Among industrial policy holders, the death rate for eight months of 1941 was 14 per cent lower than last year, and deaths from tuberculosis actually dropped to the lowest point on record.

But, in the meantime, while these people were thus carefully guarding themselves against sickness,
the death rate from auto accidents was climbing 16 per cent. The bitter foolishness of such a situation needs no comment except that every man who touches the wheel of an auto or walks across a street has the power to remedy it.

What. No Sabes?
We're running headlong right into the real privations of a defense economy, all right.

Comes from New York furriers the desolating word that there are no $65,000 Russian sable coats to be had this year. It seems that the Russians are busy trying to trap somewhat bigger game than sables. Ermine and chinchilla are going to be equally rare, the furriers report.

The line of husbands forming in front of the 36th-story jumping window will form at the right.
"What, no $65,000 sables?" we hear the man at the head of the line cry as he flings himself desperately out the window.

Beak and Belly
A remarkable bird, assures the old limerick, is the pelican. Remarkable especially in that its beak, the rhyme asserts, can hold more than its belly can.

That rare bird, Hitler, is by way of being more remarkable still. According to his speech of Oct.
3, he has already seized from Russia an area "twice as large as the German Reich when I took over leadership in 1933."

That is, he has it in his beak. Some of the other territorial morsels snapped up in that beak have been proving remarkably indigestible of late. There is nothing in the conduct of Russia thus far in the war to suggest that seizure of a chunk of it twice as large as Germany is going to contribute anything
very happy to the Fuehrer-bird's metabolism.

Chicago, Oct. 14—(AP)—Investigation of the state civil service system was condemned by Rep.
William D. Vicars of Pontiac and defended by Robert L. Hunter, state civil service head, in a debate before the City Club yesterday.

Vicars, minority leader in the state house of representatives, declared friends of Governor Green had tried to kill civil service and that a house committee appointed to investigate the service "was run according to the Russian spy system."

Hunter said superiors had filed affidavits charging 9,000 of the 15,000 employees with undue political activity and that of 250 cases heard by the commission, the charges had been sustained against 90 per cent.

Charges against Democratic employees, Vicars countered, were signed by persons holding grudges
against them, by Republican po-liticalians who want their jobs or by ambitious underlings.

Hunter admitted no charges had been filed against Republican job holders as yet but said evidence of political activities against them would be welcomed. "We're on our way toward giving Illinois one of the best civil service systems
in the country," Hunter said.

Undreamed-of Age of Steel Alloys Is Near, Says Science
War Metals Problem in United States Given
Surprise Solution

Madison, Wis., Oct. 14—(AP)— America's war metal problem has reached an unexpected solution,
the National Academy of Sciences was told today, one that may change some of the habits of the American people.

The solution is mainly that steel will become a part in many things which have been made with other metals. There will be, as a result, a long range effect on many products and processes of manufacture that ultimately will affect habits.

This report was made by Dr.
Zay Jeffries, Cleveland chairman of the metals conservation and substitution group of the advisory committee on metals and minerals.

Steel and 18 other metals have been playing a ring-around-a-rosy game for months. In March, for example, there was a nickel shortage. Chromium, copper and vanadium took over some of nickel's alloying work.

Cycle of Shortages
Then a threatened aluminum shortage put a heavy burden on zinc and copper as substitutes.

Wherever one metal was substituted for another, Dr. Jeffries said, a shortage resulted somewhere in the metal cycle.

Steel then came to the rescue.
Metallurgists found steel could do at least part of the jobs done by all the other alloying metals.

The result is the beginning of an undreamed-of age of steel alloys, many of them new. Although steel, too, now is short, Dr. Jeffries said enough could be produced in time to make up for all metal deficiencies.

These new alloy steels, moreover, he said, not only make possible more war materials from a given tonnage, but will make our munitions, all along the line, superior to those of the axis powers.

BEHIND
THE NEWS
By PAUL MALLON

(Distributed by King Features

whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

Washington, Oct. 13—Army tops are maintaining an official attitude of pleasure over the Louisiana maneuvers, but they found many bugs in our war machine which are not being advertised. The fighting forces involved were found to be in fair condition, if you will kindly consider their lack of equipment and training. They are far from being a match for anything in Europe yet.

The discovered bugs upon which GHQ is now working ardently with pliers and wrenches are primarily these:

A tremendous shortage of every conceivable thing an army uses,
not only tanks and big guns but machine guns (which were thought to have been plentifully supplied), radios for communications, even maps. The shortage of maps was so acute one ingenious officer slipped into a hotel lobby and stole all the road maps from the rack. When he furnished these to the intelligence division gratitude was expressed by his superior officers. The higher officers had been sufficiently supplied, but the lower officers could not easily find their way about.

Officer personnel was definitely weak and lacking in leadership. A dangerous absence of team spirit was evident between officers of the regular army, reserves and National Guard. The corrective which will be employed on this will be some rather sharp weeding out in the National Guard and among the untrained reserve officers. The reserve officers, led by major on up who were found to be suffering from too much rank. The lieutenants and captains showed splendidly in contrast.

Armored force officers cockiest
of the army were found to be bitter about their organization setup.
Conflict exists between the blitz
boys (tanks, etc.) and the old cavalry officers. Strangely enough, most of the top men are cavalry oldsters. The horse and buggy brigade wants to do everything horseback. The corrective on this, being suggested around GHQ here is that each tank be built with two stalls for two horses.

The most feared deficiency, morale, showed high. Indisputable evidence of confidence in the army has turned the corner on this. After all the suggested remedies that have been publicly offered, it seems the one which brought the best results was the simplest. The careful explanation to soldiers of the reasons for all the drudgery.

Everyone speaks well of the Jeeps. The swift, armored auto scouters did the job expected of them. In one outstanding incident, a jeep unit crossed a river. One was sent ahead to look around.
He met 13 enemy scouting tanks, swiftly turned about and ran for the river bank, thus leading the 13 tanks into destruction by the 12
other jeeps whose anti-tank guns were sent on ahead to look around.
Every third jeep either carries an anti-tank or a machine gun, or is an unnumbered scouting car. Together they comprise a thoroughly American answer to Hitler's blitz technique.

Outsourcing jobs were done by air force and engineers. The air job was especially difficult because the pilots were using hot planes with extremely high landing speeds and were required to operate on tight fields. They were unable to acquire much experience as a result. The regular army has been going abroad.
One of their feats was keeping General Ben Lear on the run. (He of you-hoo fame.) They bombed him out of his headquarters, continuously. In the middle of one night he had to move with the assistance of a single aide.

The feat of which the engineers are rightly proud was the demolition of 1,900 bridges and culverts
in the defense of Shreveport alone.
Wooden blocks representing TNT were used. The blocks were really hooked with wires. Flags were hung on each destroyed bridge.
The engineers also planted 40,000 mines and performed remarkable feats of pontooning across the Red and Sabine rivers.

All in all the army was found to be far from fit for fighting, but everyone around here seems to be happy now because they can see for the first time the light at the edge of the woods in which they have been wandering.

Young Republicans Hear Judge Wheat

The Lee County Young Republican organization held an interesting and well attended meeting last evening at the Loveland Community House. Judge Harry E.
Wheat of Freeport was the guest speaker and talked upon the subject, "Politics Is the Science of Government." He elaborated upon the fact that while there has been advancement in every field of social activity, political parties and politicians have failed to recognize the fact that present day social conditions call for new and advanced political policies and the modernization, or stream-lining of political parties. Science practiced in politics, he said, assured better representation which would ultimately result in better government.

Chairman Harry Herbst presided during the evening and after the main address, short talks were made by Representative George Brydia of Prophetstown, Ward Miller, Gilbert Finch, Judge Grover Gehant, Edwin S. Rosecrans, L. E.
Bates and Mrs. Louis Gramp. Robert
C. Tuttle of Dixon has been appointed chairman of the organization committee, succeeding Kenneth Abbott who has accepted a position in Springfield at the state treasurers' office. Miss Helen Lennon was named musician of the organization. The club voted to hold a Thanksgiving dancing party on Wednesday evening, Nov. 19, further announcement of which will be made later.

DAVID A. ROWLAND
(Contributed)

David Abner Rowland was born at Clearspring, Washington county, Maryland, Sept. 21, 1856 and departed this life at his home,
704 Highland avenue, October 9,
1941, aged 85 years and 17 days.
At the age of 16 he became a Christian, uniting with the Church of the Brethren in Franklin county, Pa. He was united in marriage to Sarah B. Showalter October 4, 1877. One son, Victor was born into their home who preceded his father April 24, 1927.
In the spring of 1881 Mr. and Mrs.
Rowland moved to Mount Morris,
Illinois, and in March of 1884
they moved to Nickerson county Kansas.

Mr. Rowland was interested in church and Sunday school work, and here he was elected to the deacons office in May of 1885 in which office he rendered a valuable service to his church. In the spring of 1889 they returned to Illinois and located near Polo.
March 21, 1900 he was elected to the ministry where he might better serve his church and on May 7, 1908 he was ordained to the elderhood of the ministry, the highest degree of the ministry in the Brethren church.

In 1903 he and Mrs. Rowland entered the mission work of the Northern district of Illinois and Wisconsin, taking charge of the Ash Ridge church of Wisconsin.
They remained here for over two years in pastoral and evangelistic work. From October 1905 to March 1908 he was pastor of the Church of the Brethren of Polo.
November 27, 1911 he, with his wife who survives him, moved to Dixon where he resided until the time of his death. Mr. Rowland also did some mission work in Moline, Illinois during the years of 1913 to 1915. He has always interested in his church and gave much time to pastoral and evangelistic work, many times teaching Sunday school class. Besides his church work he did some farming and accumulated enough for he and his wife to live on during old age.

Mr. Rowland was an unusually active man; he was sociable, congenial and jovial which made for him many friends. He was sound in his convictions concerning God;
he served his church faithfully;
he looked after the interests of his own household; and loved and served his fellowman. His memory will be cherished by many and his virtues will be emulated by those who knew him best. His widow survives; a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Rowland of Polo; a granddaughter, Mrs. Leon A. Zick of Oregon; and two great grandchildren, Robert and Barbara Zick of Oregon. He has also a half sister who lives at Hagerstown, Maryland. The funeral service was conducted at the local Brethren church, Saturday October 11, by his pastor, the Rev. William E.
Thompson. Interment was made in the Polo cemetery.

MRS. ENA HOWARD
(Contributed)
Mrs. Ena Howard was born near Marion, Ky., the daughter of Curtis and Sarah Teer. She departed this life Sept. 24, 1941 at the age of 47 years, four months and 20 days. On Aug. 28, 1912
she was united in marriage to Twinkle T. Howard and to this union was born two children, Ben and Syble, both of Dixon. She joined the Baptist church near Marion, Ky., in early girlhood and remained a member until her death.

With her family she moved to Dixon in 1927 and has remained a resident of Dixon ever since. She was a victim of a lingering disease which filled her closing days with suffering. Through it all she was patient and supported by her faith. She was preceded in death by her father, Curtis Teer and one sister Betty. She leaves to mourn her passing her husband, two children, two grandchildren, Ann and Sandra Howard, her mother, Mrs. Sarah Teer, one sister, Mrs.
Grace Meredith, three brothers,
Everett, Lacy and Forest Teer, all of Dixon and a host of friends.
She was laid to rest at Chapel Hill
Memorial park.

A precious one from us has gone.
A voice we loved is stilled.
A place is vacant in our home
Which never can be filled.
God in His wisdom has recalled
The boon his love had given.
And though the body slumbers
here
The soul is safe in heaven.

"Gosh! I can see the disadvantages of a two-front campaign already!"

Labor Federation Head Pledges All-Out Aid to British

Seattle, Oct. 14—(AP)—British delegates to the American Federation of Labor convention
have been assured by President William Green that AFL members would support Britain's cause "to the bitter end" even if called to service from their work benches.

In his most forceful foreign policy declaration of the Federation of Labor convention, Green declared last night:

"If it becomes necessary for us to do more than work in the mines, the mills and the factories, if the call comes to give service as we have given it before, we will meet that call unitedly and cour-ageously!"

"Wherever fate may lead us, we shall stand immovable for liberty, democracy and freedom of the seas."

The delegates, who will vote,
probably tomorrow, on the issue of aid to Britain and Russia, applauded Green's pledge vigorously.

Green's remarks were in response to addresses by two British and one Canadian fraternal delegates—Edward Hough and George W. Thomson of the British Trades Union Congress and
H. C. Simpson of the Canadian Trades and Labor Council.

Illinois Alumni Have Reorganized; Rallying Points Are Named

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 14—(AP)—University of Illinois alumni activities have been completely reorganized, with creation of 46 districts as rallying points for the 87,000 graduates and former students living in Illinois.

The move to strengthen alumni relations, announced Monday by officials of the Alumni Association, makes each of the 46 communities a meeting place for its surrounding territory.

E. E. Stafford, field secretary of the association, said each of the 19 Illini clubs in Illinois had been designated as an alumni district, with added authority conferred upon its officers.

Temporary presidents and secretaries have been named in the 27 other districts.

Faculty members will speak at rallies to be held in each district this autumn.

District headquarters will be: Freeport, Rockford, Waukegan, Sterling, Aurora, Wheaton, Chicago, Moline, LaSalle, Joliet, Peoria, Galesburg, Kankakee, Pontiac, Bloomington, Quincy, Macomb, Lincoln, Decatur, Monticello, Champaign, Danville, Jacksonville, Springfield, Taylorville, Mattoon, Jerseyville, Hillsboro, Effingham, Robinson, Alton, Centralia, Belleville, Mt. Carmel, Olney, DuQuoin, Benton, Carmi, Carbondale, Marion, Harrisburg, Cairo, Paris, Kewanee, Canton and Beardstown.

The American-built B-19 super-bomber, which has four 18-cylinder engines of more than 2,000-horsepower each, is the highest-powered airplane in the world.

MENDOTA

MRS. BERTHA OSSMAN
811 Seventh Avenue
Phone 266L

Lathrop-Bulfer

One of the season's prettiest weddings took place Tuesday morning, October 14th, when Father Leo J. Wissing read the single ring service at a nuptial high mass at Holy Cross Catholic church, joining the lives of Miss Lorraine Lathrop, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome M. Sond, and Lester Bulfer, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Bulfer of Sublette, Ill.

The altar of the church was decorated with multi-colored gladioli and tapers. The junior choir sang the mass with the church organist at the organ for nuptial music.

The bride was lovely in a gown of white slipper satin, fashioned with a lace yoke with high petal points at collar. A fitted bodice and basque skirt with a long train. The leg o' mutton sleeves were pointed at wrist and were fastened with self-covered buttons, as was the back of the bridal gown. Her finger tip veil of illusion was charmingly lace bordered and was fastened with a crown of seed pearls. Her shower bouquet was of white chrysanthemums and pink roses.

Miss Esther Kratz attended the bride as bridesmaid. Her floor length gown was of aqua taffeta, made with a sweetheart neck line, short puffed sleeves and buffant skirt and was trimmed in matching aqua velvet. She wore a sweetheart bodice fashioned of aqua taffeta trimmed with velvet and carried a colonial bouquet of bronze chrysanthemums.

Ellen Bulfer, small sister of the bridegroom was flower girl, her floor length frock of gold taffeta was fashioned with a full skirt, short puffed sleeves and a round neck and was trimmed with aqua velvet ribbon were fastened at the neck line of frock. She also wore a sweetheart bodice similar to that worn by the bridesmaid. It was of gold taffeta with velvet trim. Her miniature colonial bouquet was similar to that of the bridesmaid.

Jerry Sonderoth, small brother of the bride, attired in all white, was ring bearer and carried the ring on a white satin pillow.

Attending the bridegroom was his brother, Private Harry Bulfer, Camp Forrest, Tennessee. Ushers were the bridegroom's eldest brother, Joseph E. Bulfer of Washington, D. C. and a relative of the bride's family, Clinton Sonderoth.

Mrs. Sonderoth, mother of the bride, chose for her daughter's wedding a light navy ensemble with duobonnet accessories. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Bulfer, wore a gown of soldier blue crepe with black accessories. Both wore corsages of Talisman roses.

A three-course dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents in Mendota at noon. Covers were placed for sixty relatives and friends. Two friends of the bride, Misses Dorothy and Bernice Full, assisted in serving.

The bridal table was centered with a three-tier wedding cake, decorations being white aqua and gold and was topped by a miniature bride and bridegroom. Lighted tapers were placed at each end of the table. The place cards were made by the bride, and were white and gold.

In the vining a reception was held in the Sublette community hall. Several hundred friends and relatives were in attendance and many beautiful gifts were received by Mr. and Mrs. Bulfer.

The bride is a graduate of Peru grade school and Mendota Township high school, class of '39, and has been employed as reporter at the Mendota Reporter office.

The newlyweds have departed on a wedding trip by motor to the southern and eastern states. For traveling Mrs. Bulfer wore a wool suit of natural colored tweed with black accessories.

Mr. Bulfer attended Sublette parochial school and is a graduate of Amboy high school, class of '37 and since graduation has assisted his father in farming.

Included in the out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Burkart, daughter Mary Ellen and son William, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Hopkins, daughter Doris and son William all of Evanston; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gutenberg and daughter Carolyn, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gutenberg and Mrs. Marice Willis, Chicago; Joseph E. Bulfer and Kenneth Olanark, Washington, D. C.; Private Harry Bulfer, Camp Forrest, Tennessee; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Mercer, Detroit, Michigan; Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Burkart and Mrs. Cecil Philben, Peru, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Keeler and Mrs. Anna Moore and Mrs. Victoria Wrehning, Earlville; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Turner, Luther Turner and Mrs. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schinger, Ashton; and Mrs. Anna Leffelman, Maytown.

The Young People's club of Holy Cross Catholic church met at Holy Cross school hall Monday evening for regular meeting.

Miss Louise Leifheit was hostess to members of her bridge club at her home Monday evening. A scramble supper preceded cards.

Calls Morgenthau Farmers' "Public Enemy Number 1"

Washington, Oct. 14—(AP)—Dubbing Treasury Secretary Morgenthau agriculture's "Public Enemy No. 1," Senator Bankhead (D-Ala.) said Monday that farm state congressmen would oppose any attempt to clamp rigid price ceilings on agriculture.

Bankhead, who has sponsored most of the new deal farm laws and appropriations in recent years, asserted that he saw no possibility of any inflationary prices for major farm crops.

He hit out at the recent series of Morgenthau statements which contended that rising farm prices have accelerated the danger of inflation and which urged that government loan stocks of agricultural products be placed on the market to counteract the climbing prices.

Bankhead challenged the Morgenthau position as "absurd." "We have big surplus supplies of cotton, wheat, corn, tobacco and most other major farm products," he said in an interview. "As long as this exists there can be no inflation in farm prices. To get an inflated price, you must have a scarcity with several buyers bidding for an article. No thinking person is afraid of such a situation in cotton, wheat or other major crops."

Bankhead, Chairman Smith (D-

S.C.) of the senate agriculture committee, and several other senators who have led congressional battles on farm bills in the past have accused Morgenthau of forcing down market prices of cotton and other major crops by recent public utterances.

Murder Charge Filed Against Tavern Owner

Benton, Ill., Oct. 14—(AP)—A murder charge has been filed against Joe Smith, 55, Zeigler tavern owner, in the death of Herman A. Mitchell, 53, Zeigler miner.

State's Attorney Leonard Dunn who filed the charges said a coroner's jury found that Mitchell's death last Friday resulted from head injuries suffered when the two men fought over the attentions of a woman.

HOW THEY WERE NAMED

Joshua trees were so named by the Mormon immigrants, who regarded their presence in the desert as sentinels of the "promised land."

Norwegian Whaling Ship Survives Raid By German U-Boat

Undersea Raider Is Driven Away By Gunfire

By DREW MIDDLETON

Reykjavik, Iceland, Oct. 13.—(Delayed)—(AP)—A battered old Norwegian whaling ship engaged in carrying supplies to Britain has reached this refuge safely after surviving a torpedoing by a German submarine, which blasted a hole in her hull, and a subsequent gale which almost sent her to the bottom.

Despite the vicissitudes of the voyage, the only casualty aboard was a broken finger, suffered by a negro when someone slammed a door on his hand during the excitement of the attack.

The undersea raider was driven off and perhaps sunk by the whaler's gunfire.

How the ship managed to make this port, however, is a minor miracle, not only to members of the crew, but to observers as well, for she has a hole in her starboard side big enough to drive a car through.

Story of Voyage

Here is the story of her voyage: Somewhere in the Atlantic the whaler, en route from Honduras to England was separated from her convoy by a storm.

Then she was attacked without warning by a submarine, which scored a hit with the first torpedo. Passengers were ordered to the lifeboats, but the gun crew stood by and finally the submarine broke water not far away.

The gunners fired three shells—one of which they thought struck the conning tower of the raider. Whatever the result, the submarine disappeared, and the crew began hasty repairs while the negroes were put to work shifting cargo to port to keep the hole in the opposite side above water.

With a heavy list, the ship resumed her journey, but it was not long before she ran into another storm. Tons of water poured through the gaping hole in her hull.

Only desperate work at the pumps kept her afloat until she was picked up by patrol vessels and escorted to safety here.

Battle Over Custody of Six-Year-Old Girl Is In Supreme Court

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 14—(AP)—A long legal controversy over the custody of a six-year-old girl, involving an alleged abduction of the child from the Webster Groves, Mo., home of her foster parents, reached the Illinois Supreme court today.

Mr. and Mrs. Earle Coulter of Oak Park, Ill., appealed from a Cook county Superior court order which gave custody of their daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Clyde O. McAllister of Webster Groves, who claimed the Coulters had "voluntarily surrendered" the child to their care in 1936.

The McAllisters won the Superior court order on July 3 this year in a suit which alleged that the Coulters forcibly took the girl from their home on August 31, 1940. The Circuit court of St. Louis county previously had awarded the child to the McAllisters in an adoption proceeding.

Garden in Memory of Lincoln Is Dedicated

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 14—(AP)—The Abraham Lincoln Memorial Garden, situated on the shores of Lake Springfield, was formally dedicated today to the people of Illinois and the nation in a symbolic ceremony conducted by the Garden Club of Illinois.

Mrs. Warren W. Shoemaker of Hubbard Woods, president of the organization, presided at the presentation held in connection with the club's semi-annual meeting.

Work on the 5,000 acre memorial was begun in 1935, and planting and landscaping was completed this summer. In the park there are nearly all varieties of trees, shrubs and flowers native to this central Illinois area where Lincoln spent most of his life.

The garden will be available to the public as a recreation ground, and has numerous "council rings"—circular low stone ledges surrounding fireplaces—where picnics may be held.

Aerial Bomb to Start Duck Hunting Season

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 14—(AP)—An aerial bomb, rather than a siren, will signal the opening of the duck hunting season at sunrise Thursday for the 10,000 hunters who are expected to be in and around Lake County's Grass Lake, long a favored waterfowl shooting spot in northern Illinois.

The state conservation department announced it was substituting the bomb signal because, in past years, some hunters mistook the shrieking of police and fire sirens for the signal and started shooting too early. The bomb will be fired by state conservation agents on an island in the middle of the lake.

with slashing new gains of approximately 110 and 60 miles in two vital sectors of the 13-day-old battle for Moscow.

There was little gloom in Moscow itself, however.

While conceding German superiority in numbers and weight of machines, the Russians declared their resistance was growing and that Red army counter-attacks were increasing in frequency.

Thousands of Moscow civilians were reported toiling feverishly to erect chains of field fortifications around the beleaguered capital, and masses of fresh soviet troops were hurrying to combat the Nazi juggernaut under an oath to "die here but not let the enemy into Moscow."

Claim 3,000,000 Prisoners

The German government announced that more than 3,000,000 Russian prisoners had been captured in the 16-week-old campaign, and that the equivalent of 300 soviet divisions at full war strength had been captured, killed or wounded.

According to this estimate, which assumed that each division numbered 20,000 men, the Germans declared a total of 6,000,000 Russian soldiers had been put out of action.

London advices said advance German troops had reached Moshaisk, about midway between Moscow and fallen Vyazma, but had been ejected by fiercely counter-attacking Red army forces.

The thrust apparently marked the closest approach to Moscow since the German offensive began Oct. 2.

A Berlin spokesman indicated also that Nazi columns had encircled Kaluga, 100 miles south of Moscow, and rolled on, leaving soviet forces there to be mopped up by German rearguards. If true, this would mean that the Germans already had advanced more than half the distance from Bryansk, the scene of much of the heaviest fighting to the U. S. S. R. capital.

The Germans asserted that still another Nazi column moving down on Moscow from the Volga hills to the northwest was nearing the Moscow-Leningrad railway.

Report Vast Slaughter

No amplification was forthcoming on the report that German siege guns were now in a position to shell Moscow's outer perimeter of defenses. Normally, field guns have a range under 25 miles, but German "Big Berthas" during the World War bombarded Paris from a distance of more than 75 miles.

The Russians, reporting a vast slaughter of the invaders, admitted the fall of strategic Vyazma, 125 miles west of Moscow, but declared the German offensive was slackening before reports to another resistance in that sector.

Soviet front-line dispatches pictured a series of gigantic mechanized battles raging over the fields of Moscow, with the Germans having tanks and motorized infantry from one sector to another in an effort to find soft spots.

Red Star, the Russian army newspaper, said the Germans had been thrown back 10 miles in one sector and other soviet reports told of the death of 10,000 nazis in three actions.

Dispatches to Ivestia, the soviet government newspaper, indicated that Russian warplanes were now gaining superiority above the vast and chaotic battlefield after the Germans for a time seemed to be getting control of the skies. In the past few days "the situation has changed," the reports said.

Reserves Still Coming

Massive German air attacks so far have failed to disrupt the railway network feeding reserves and supplies to the front, Ivestia said, adding:

"Our transport is functioning without a hitch."

Military advices reaching London said the battle was intensifying in fury, and gave this sector-by-sector summary:

1. Orel, 210 miles south of Moscow. "The Germans are attacking in great strength, but the Russians appear to be holding them at present."

2. Bryansk, 210 miles southwest of Moscow. "The situation is obscure, although reports from Moscow indicate the Russians have the situation in hand."

3. On the Rostov-Moscow axis: "The Germans appear to have advanced on a narrow front, but in great strength. Their advanced units reached Moshaisk, but were ejected by the Russians and heavy fighting is continuing."

4. From the Volga Hills: "The German drive toward Rzhys (140 miles northwest of Moscow) appears to be making some progress."

Morrison Doctor Made Assistant Health Director

Dr. Herbert L. Pettitt of Morrison, chairman of the Whiteside County Republican committee, was named assistant director of public health of the state of Illinois by Governor Dwight H. Green, Sunday and went to Springfield today where he will take charge of the department in the absence of Dr. Ronald Cross, director, who is attending a conference in Atlantic City.

The appointment to the second highest position in the department of public health came as a total surprise to Dr. Pettitt and was entirely unsolicited. Dr. Pettitt, who has declined several positions in the past was called to Springfield Thursday by Governor Green and requested to accept the place. After an extended conference, he agreed. The appointment, however, was not made until Sunday evening when Governor Green called him on the telephone and informed him that he was now in charge of the department, owing to the absence of Dr. Cross, and asked him that he come to Springfield immediately.

Historical Society Plans Survey Rock River Indian Sites

History of Inhabitants of Valley Centuries Ago of Interest

By CLYDE BUCKINGHAM

Members of the Lee County Historical Society will soon visit a few of the sites where ancient man has left his monuments in beautiful Rock River valley. We shall see his trails worn deep in the unplowed virgin soil; visit his village sites where he lived his stone age existence; see his weapons of peace and war; his arrow heads, his spear heads, his stone hammers, his beads and many other artifacts, the meaning of which we can only guess. And then on high bluffs overlooking the river, we shall see large clusters of mounds where he buried his dead.

Who was this ancient man who hundreds and probably thousands of years ago was first attracted by the beauties of our valley and made the valley his home. This question is not yet answered and may never be answered in its entirety. When in the 1830's the first permanent settlers moved into the valley they found that the tribes then dwelling along the river had themselves recently invaded the territory the Sauks having been driven gradually westward from the St. Lawrence valley and the Winnebago having lost a war in their ancient homeland west of the Mississippi, had fled eastward, invading the Rock River country. Although of different tribal stocks and speaking dissimilar languages these two invaders seem to have entered into an alliance against the older inhabitants found in the valley.

Found by Jesuits

In 1670 Jesuit priests found these tribes living together harmoniously near the head of Green Bay, Wis., with other villages on the upper reaches of Rock river. When the Sauks and Winnebago invaded Rock river valley, they found the country sparsely inhabited by tribes of Algonquians calling themselves Illinwek or Illinois. This confederation of tribes, formerly rulers of a vast empire along both sides of the Mississippi, was now greatly reduced in numbers and weakened by numerous wars and liquor obtained from the white man. As a result of these wars, the pitiable remnant of the Illinois about the end of the Revolutionary war, were driven west of the Mississippi and the invading tribes took possession of the Rock River valley.

Little is known of the Illini inhabitants of the valley. They spoke an Algonquian tongue and there were definitely part of that great family of Indian tribes inhabiting the northern half of the United States east of the Mississippi.

That these tribes had long lived where the white man found them is proven by numerous creation myths related by the Jesuit priests in which individual tribes claimed they originated at their present habitat. This is particularly true of the Indians of the St. Lawrence valley.

Came From Far West

The Illini of Rock river and southern Wisconsin, in one of their earliest recorded contacts with a white man in 1660, stated that they had come from the border of a great sea in the far west. Some writers have regarded this statement as referring to their habitation along the Mississippi river. Could it be, however, that this actually is a tribal memory of an ancient day when the Algonquian peoples had lived on the shores of the Pacific ocean. Recent studies by the Smithsonian Institute seem to warrant the conclusion that many mongloid peoples from eastern Asia crossed over the Bering straits and entered the new world by way of the Aleutian islands and Alaska. That the historic American Indian is closely related to the Mongloid peoples of eastern Asia is a theory that has found universal acceptance among men of science.

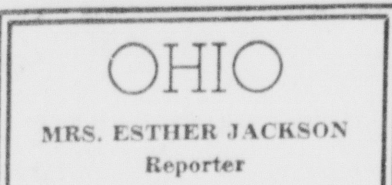

These Illini tribes are the earliest people for whom we have written records. Did they build the mounds? That Indians did build mounds and mound sites warrant the conclusion that the latest mounds were built by a people with a culture similar to that of the more advanced tribes in the neighborhood. The finding of certain articles of European manufacture proves that some mounds at least were built after these Indians had been in contact with white man. There are occasional references to the actual building of mounds in historic times. (Mrs. Kinzel in her book "Wauwau, referred to the Butte des Morts, or Hill of the Dead, where were buried a large number of Fox Indians killed in a great battle with the French in 1714.)

Early Mound Builders

The mound builders of the Rock River Valley whether historic Indian or his prehistoric ancestors have left evidence of his long occupancy of the valley. In the middle Rock River Valley, there are large mound sites in Assembly park, Dixon; Sinnissippi park, Sterling; on the Leach and Bender farms in the Bend, and on the high bluffs opposite Blackhawk statute above Oregon. More numerous than these existing mounds were destroyed as the land was brought under cultivation. Still existent in a few isolated spots can be seen the trails over which he moved his villages, following migrating game or the paths over which his war parties travelled in their attacks on the enemy. Gathered from these sites into private collections are thousands of his weapons, his ornaments and even the toys with which his children played.

The records of the mound builders are numerous and yet the ravages of time and the hands of vandals are rapidly destroying the data on which this earliest history of our valley should be written. It is hoped that in the near future some trained scientists will study these ancient monuments and write for us this earliest history. Perhaps they will tell of the Black Sand people living far back in antiquity or the Red Ochre people or will find evidences of the Hopewell culture along Green river and finally tell of that people of the woodlands who always buried their dead on high bluffs overlooking the streams or rivers.

45,019 Policies Cover Illinois Wheat Farmers

Decatur, Ill., Oct. 14.—(AP)—J. Francis Buck, state supervisor for the Federal Crop Insurance Corp., said Monday that 35,158 policies have been written covering 45,019 Illinois farms against 1942 wheat crop losses. The crops are protected up to three-fourths of the normal yield against loss from all natural hazards. Buck said the figures represent a one-third increase in acreage coverage since the current year.

Brandon Plans to "Board Out" Many of State Patients

New Rehabilitation Program Announced by Welfare Director

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 14.—(AP)—Hundreds of patients in overcrowded state mental hospitals will be "boarded out" in private homes under a new rehabilitation program announced by state Welfare Director Rodney H. Brandon.

Brandon made the program public yesterday at a meeting of state hospital physicians when he called on the institutional staffs to cooperate in the program to discharge all patients who are not dangerous to society.

Declaring that "too many borderline cases are being dumped in state institutions," Brandon said that the new boarding plan would be instituted under a 10-year-old law which had never been invoked by state mental hospitals. Under the plan, so-called "socially safe" patients will be placed in private homes at state expense.

Maximum Pay $5 Per Week

The maximum weekly payment for care of patients in private homes will be $5 weekly, he announced. Efforts will be made to limit one patient to a home.

To supplement the boarding program, Brandon said that out-patient clinics would be established at each state hospital to continue free medical care for those discharged or released on probation. Physicians at each institution will be assigned to make regular inspection visits to each person.

Brandon said he expected treatment of the mentally ill would be more effective in normal community life than within the confines of a state hospital.

"Too much emphasis has been placed by the public and doctors, alike, in sending every 'odd' person to an insane asylum," Brandon said to the hospital physicians. "It is up to us to change that trend and make people realize that only the dangerously insane should be committed to state institutions."

May Save Millions

A possible saving of around $2-100,000 a year may be effected by state mental hospitals with the return to private life of 7,000 "socially safe" patients.

More than 2,000 harmless defectives will be released within the next few months, if the recently announced program is accomplished. Although release of the complete 7,000 may take four or even seven years, the release of each means a saving of $300 a year, said Dr. Conrad Sommer, chief medical officer for the state institutions.

"It isn't a question of saving money, but of saving lives," he said, "but we figure $300 a patient. Of course, we may have to support some of them for the first few months they are out."

Dr. Warren G. Murray, managing officer at the Dixon hospital, said he intends to release from 120 to 150 next month. These will be in addition to the normal monthly dismissals, which average 25.

Here a patient costs the state an average of $26 a year.

In no case will any of the patients be violent. They are quiet, tractable men, women, and young girls, most of them capable of doing simple tasks, but all in need of sympathetic, congenial homes rather than the walls of an institution.

"They need not have an I. Q. (intelligence quotient) of anywhere near 100 if their habits are good," Dr. Murray said. "It is important, to be careful in seeing that they get into proper homes."

Some Typical Cases

Typical cases to be released from the institutions are:

A girl of 21, admitted in 1935 as feeble minded with an I. Q. of 53. Poor home conditions had contributed to her state. She now has an I. Q. of 77, and may be placed in a supervisory home doing housework for room and board and possibly $3 a week.

A woman of 66, admitted last November as an epileptic. She has an I. Q. of 122 and at one time worked in the Art institute. She now is in good physical condition, works in the hospital therapy department, converses freely, and is highly intelligent.

A man of 68, committed to the hospital in 1934 after a head injury, combined with long, continuous use of liquor, affected his mind. He has improved rapidly, is peaceable, friendly, always well-groomed. He could be placed anywhere with freedom.

A girl of 19 with an I. Q. of 87, committed in 1938 as an epileptic. Her seizures began for no apparent reason when she was 16. She now has had none in two years, works in the wards, and is in excellent general health.

A Feeble Minded Boy

A boy of 13, feeble-minded with an I. Q. of 52, whose parents want his release. He was admitted last year for sex delinquency. He has a feeble-minded brother and sister.

A man of 80, who was admitted to the hospital when 58. When a boy, he was kicked by a horse and when 27 fell out of a rocking chair during an epileptic stroke. For 15 years before his commitment he worked in a meat market. He is quite harmless.

A man of 41, a Hungarian, who was a form of mental illness from which complete recovery seldom takes place. He was committed after he lost his job and attempted suicide. He has been working in the hospital's household department, doing consistently efficient work. He is friendly and without relatives, needs a home with a fellow countryman who will let him do simple tasks.

A Friendly Man

A man of 70, who has been in various institutions for short periods for 40 years. He has repeated attacks of mental illness accompanied by profound depression, from which he has recovered. His wife is dead, his only child is married, in a distant state and financially strained. The hospital hopes to place him with a family who will accept him as a member and surround him with kindly attentions.

A man of 55, divorced with three grown children who refuse to show interest in him because he once abused them. Committed in February with a long history of alcoholism, accompanied by progressive lack of ability to hold a job. He has improved constantly, and with competent supervision can return to private life. He should not be permanently institutionalized.

A man of 73 who voluntarily sought help because of fear and confusion following a history of alcoholism. He now has hardening of the arteries, high blood pressure, and a damaged heart muscle. He now works around the hospital grounds and could do well in a home with a minimum of supervision.

Woman of 44

A woman of 44 with an I. Q. of 98, who was admitted in August after an epileptic seizure. She attended Carthage college, is divorced, and has a daughter, 21. She is now in good physical condition.

"Of course, we are going to have trouble finding homes for these people," said Dr. C. W. Evans, assistant superintendent of Dixon hospital in charge of paroles. "No one wants them, especially if they are feeble-minded."

Mrs. D. Saunders of Kansas City is visiting her son, Roy Saunders and daughter, Norma this week. Mrs. Saunders, who is past 80, formerly lived in Mount Morris and is enjoying meeting her old friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Waddell and children and Mrs. Margaret Waddell of California were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Michael, Jr. at Haldane.

Rev. William Manny is being transferred by the Methodist conference to the pastorate at Des Plaines. He will be succeeded by Rev. Earl Edwards, who will come to Mount Morris from the church at Genoa. Rev. Edwards attended the Mount Morris College and was pastor for a time of the Methodist church at Leaf River.

Layoffs in Non-Defense Plants To Be Serious

Washington, Oct. 14.—(AP)—Layoffs in non-defense plants at Belleville, Ill., are expected to become serious, said a report by Paul V. McNutt, security administrator.

In two Illinois cities, 12 firms employing about 2,400 workers anticipated layoffs totaling more than 1,000, said the summary, which was described as "typical" but gave no further details and did not identify the cities.

McNutt urged employers anticipating layoffs to notify state employment offices at once. If the plants can't be given defense contracts, he said, the employment service will attempt to train and transfer the displaced workers.

FOOD ODIVITY

To make "chunni", a powder used for soup, Peruvian Indians soak potatoes in water and freeze them. Then, each morning, they dance barefoot upon the "spuds". In several days the potatoes become dehydrated and hard as stone. Then they are beaten into powder.

Six Manufacturers of Traffic Signals Cited by Trade Commission

Washington, Oct. 14.—(AP)—The Eagle Signal Corporation, Moline, Ill., today was one of six manufacturers of traffic signals and signal equipment charged by the Federal Trade Commission with conspiring to suppress competition.

In the complaint, issuance of which was announced yesterday, the FTC alleged that for more than three years the respondents "have engaged in an unlawful understanding agreement and conspiracy to restrict competition between them and restrain trade and create a monopoly."

It charged that they agreed on identical prices "irrespective of the cost of transportation" and that this was demonstrated by "numerous identical bids submitted by the respondents to the state of Massachusetts and to the cities of Pittsburgh, Detroit, Cleveland, Philadelphia, Grand Rapids and Omaha."

Accident Near Lindenwood

Cars driven by Chicago and Lindenwood residents crashed about 11 o'clock Sunday morning on route 64, one-half mile east of the Lindenwood corners. The Lindenwood car, owned by A. W. Rittmeyer, was being driven by a son of the Rittmeyer's at the time of the accident, and was the sole occupant. It has been reported that he turned into the highway without stopping, and crashed into the Chicago car whose two occupants were en route to Camp Grant, near Rockford, to visit relatives there. The Chicago car turned over twice and was badly wrecked. Fortunately its occupants, Mrs. Susan Murphy and Mrs. Fred Rothenberger, were not seriously injured, although both are patients at Lincoln hospital here. Young Rittmeyer was not injured.

Librarian Elected

Miss Leona Ringering, local librarian, was elected chairman of the Junior Library Section during a three-day meeting of the Illinois State Library Association, which was held at Springfield, Ill., the latter part of the week.

Mrs. Minter, librarian of the DeKalb library, is the retiring president of the association. Members of the audience included trustees as well as librarians.

Teachers Study

An unusually conscientious group of Sunday school teachers are meeting weekly at the Presbyterian church, with the pastor, Rev. Frank A. Campbell, in order to improve their teaching techniques as well as to thoroughly study the Bible lesson, as advance preparation for meeting with their classes on Sunday mornings. Another evening is spent by each teacher in preparing the lesson for the level of the particular group which she teaches. It is hoped that the spiritual lives of the children, now and in years to come, will more than compensate them for the time and effort. It should indeed result in a better Sunday school.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hall left Sunday for Richmond, Ind., where Mr. Hall has been assigned to work for the next three months, when he expects to be transferred to another location. Mr. Hall is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Hall of 115 Avenue C.

Mrs. Frank A. Campbell's mother, who is making her home with the Campbells at present, fell on Thursday evening and suffered injuries which will confine her to her bed for sometime. She has been removed to Lincoln hospital.

A group of women from the local St. Patrick's church attended Retreat of Our Lady of the Cenacle in Warrenville, Ill., on Saturday and Sunday.

The Amboy high school football team is scheduled to play here Friday night on the local lighted field back of the high school building.

Saturday is Tag Day for the Blind by the National Brotherhood of Service, Inc. This non-profit organization furnished braille books, Bibles, and white canes for the blind, and sometimes assists in securing dogs that are trained to lead the blind.

TUESDAY'S TEMPEST IN A TEAPOT

... pick-pick-pickin' all around ... you know these comic Valentines which are always sent anonymously? ... well, we got one out of season today ... it was signed (in self confession) "Dope of Dixon" ... and read: "Monday's Les Miserables? Why? You picked the wrong teams. Igerence I'd say" ... well, there's lots of picking in this world ... Peter Piper picked a peck of pickle peaches ... you pick up sticks ... you can pick your molars with little wooden instruments ... you pick your friends ... boxing contenders are picked up from the canvas ... prisoners pick at rocks ... you pick out a necktie ... and then there are those guys called "guest pickers" in football which we have each Friday night ... a lot of picking is just a shot in the dark ... sometimes based on sentiment ... and usually 50 per cent wrong ... but listen, you "Dope of Dixon" ... we newspaper ginks live in glass houses ... sometimes, like an overeager shortstop who throws before the ball is really in his hands, we interpret episodes which are still in the making ... it is hard for any interpreter to remain patient until the play has been completed ... come around sometime and we'll show you what we mean ...

... back in stride ... John Shaulis, Jr., who has just returned from down Texas way after four months of conditioning in the army ... says it is in Texas where they really take their football seriously and play the game with tooth and nail ... Johnny was spotted at the Dixon Recreation alleys yesterday getting back his maple-burning talents ... he's doing all right, too ...

... thanks a million ... Hi Emmert was around this morning expressing gratitude to all those who helped on the Lindell Day success ... says Hi: "Particular thanks to Mayor Slothower, Walter Knack, Danny Miller, Ward Miller, Edward Vaile, Tim Sullivan, Coach C. B. Lindell, Jack Harvath, Joe Vaile, Charles Miller, Bill Bushman, all the players of Mt. Morris and Dixon teams, etc., etc. ...

... giving it the once-over lightly ... Charles Dickey and Clarence Meyers went to Morrison Sunday to ride along the river trail which has been routed for the Rock River Trail and Horseman Association's trail ride this Sunday ... they return with the report that it is one of the finest and most scenic they have ever taken on horseback ... reservations are pouring in for the event, according to Art Keithahn, secretary of the association ... and it looks like a big day ahead ... there'll be an old-fashioned chicken dinner at noon ...

... soothsaying ... Dick Mead from down Paw Paw way really knew what he was talking about last April ... said Dick at that time: Yanks to win the American League pennant ... Brooklyn in the National ... and Yankees to take the Series ... about October next year we had all better consult him ... for the football season it looks like he's on a sure bet, too ... says Minnesota in the Big Nine ...

... Sunday riders ... the senior and junior John Rees ... Ben Roe, Jr. ... Mrs. Charles Dickey and Eunice Peterson were among the early morning trail riders through Lowell park Sunday morning ...

... grand opening ... the Dixon Table Tennis league opens tonight at the Elks club ... schedule: 7 o'clock—Vaile Clothiers vs. Covert Cigar Store ... 8 o'clock—Myers Royal Blue vs. Knacks ... 9 o'clock—Plowmans vs. Hey Bros. ...

... baseball notes ... Snodgrass who plays first base for the Mt. Morris Cardinals may be signed with the Knacks next season ... John Lindell will stick around these parts a few days and go duck hunting with Nelson Potter when the season opens ... Hi Emmert says he hopes there'll be a new manager for the Knacks next season ... he's willing to stick around to help ... but the full responsibility is too much ...

... softball champs ... Coach Carl Summers' Forreston grade school softball team won the fifth annual Ogle county tournament Saturday ... defeated Mt. Morris, 10 to 9 ... at Polo ... Brockmeier and Huntley formed the winning battery ... Blevins and Messer worked for the losers ... Rochelle defeated Kings, 9 to 3, for consolation honors ...

... in hospital ... Jack Grennan of Sterling, senior center of the St. Ambrose (Davenport, Ia.) football team, was in the Presbyterian hospital in Chicago today in a serious condition ... suffering from what is described as a brain tumor or a brain injury ... Grennan played only a few minutes in the school's opening game against Drake on Sept. 19 ... he complained of headaches in pre-season practices ...

... shall we join the ladies? ... bowling in the Ladies' League last night produced some more repeat scores ... Frey 132 and 132 ... Sullivan 70 and 70 ... Hoff 112 and 112 ... Kellen 137 and 137 ... Smyth 146 and 146 ... and honors for consistency went to Grace Hanson with 85-86-82 ...

... who's next ... when the barber calls out: "Who's next?" it usually means somebody is to get a trimming (bum joke) ... well, that may be so when Belvidere's football warriors come here next Friday night ... someone is almost certain to get shorn ... the game here with the Ducks will be a non-conference event ... Belvidere withdrew from the North Central circuit last spring ... to date Belvidere with a new coach and all, has had a sad season of five straight defeats ... list to Geneva, Harlem, East Rockford, Princeton and Sterling ...

... quick visit ... Lavern (Mickey) McMillon who attends school at DeKalb State Teachers college was in town for a brief visit today ... he learned here that he has a draft deferment for six months and hopes thus to continue his scholastic and athletic career ... due to an injury to his right foot in the first football scrimmage he has been out of that sport this season and may not even get into basketball ... however, Mickey is an outstanding trackman and hopes to get going by spring ...

TULANE MAY MISS CHANCE TO PLAY IN BOWL BECAUSE OF BLOCKING FOE'S PUNT

By MORTIMER KREEGER

New Orleans, Oct. 14.—(AP)—Many queer things happen in football, but few can be stranger than the angle all New Orleans is talking about today—that Tulane might miss a bowl game because its line did too good a job blocking a punt against Rice. Local sports writers believe the blocked kick, bringing a safety instead of a touchdown chance, spelled Tulane's final doom in Saturday's 10-9 loss. And Coach Red Dawson is wondering if he can ever raise his team's spirits from the depths into which the unexpected beating plunged them. The Owls were leading 10-7 with about five minutes to play when Tulane's line charged on "Stoop"

Dickson, kicking from behind his goal line. The ball bounced from the chest of tackle Charlie DuFour, right through the end zone for an automatic safety. "Three greenies chased the free ball," related "Scoop" Kennedy of the New Orleans Item, "and there wasn't an Owl in sight. Had the owl been recovered anywhere except out of bounds it would have been too bad for the Houston Hustlers. But instead of six points the Greenies got two, which probably is the first time in history where blocking a kick just about lost a ball game."

Two Quintets Share Lead in Ladies' Bowling Circuit

RECORDS REMAIN UNDISTURBED IN GAMES LAST EVE

Bowman Shoes and Lorene Beauty Hold Share in League's Lead

Not a curl in milady's coiffure was disturbed as far as any hair-pulling for records was concerned in the activities of the Ladies' Bowling League 'st night at the Dixon Recreation. Maybe those present records are permanent waves—until the ends grow out. Anyway, there wasn't much disturbance of any kind last night and the girls all behaved like perfect little ladies. The Bowman Shoe team and Lorene Beauty maintained their share in the lead although Peter Piper's Pretties dropped into a three-way share for second place.

Only one of the 16 teams in the league won all three games. The "sweepers" were the lassies from the Manhattan cafe whose victory gave them a part in the second place split.

The Manhattan won three games from Nu-Fashion Beauty as Kness counted top series of 408 for the winners and E. Hackbarth scored 410 for the losers.

Plum Hollow won two games from Villiger Drug Store as Wain scored 379 for the winners and Slothower's 390 was tops for the drug store.

Leaders Win Two Bowman Shoes counted a two-game victory over the Rainbow Inn. A 399 series by Carson led the shoe team and Tilton rolled 123 for the inn quintet.

Kathryn Beard's team spilled Peter Piper's in two games with Klein scoring a 168 series for the dress shop and Cook doing the chef duties for the country dining room.

Smith led the Dixon Cafe team to a two-game victory over Frazier Roofing as she counted 388 against the high score of 346 rolled by Roach of the rivals.

Lorene Beauty won two games from Dr. Bend's team with Oester chalking up 378 for the winners and Kellen rolling 414 for the losers.

Budweiser Gardens won two games from Christos Grocery with Harwood pacing the winners with 149. Leading the grocery crew was Schertner with 415.

Dixon Floral shop won two games from Eichler Bros as Smyth rolled 461 for the flower girls and Neff counted 415 for the brothers' team.

Daschbach had high game of the evening with a 189 in her second game.

State Association Wants Peace With Chicago League

Chicago, Oct. 14.—(AP)—The Illinois High School association has made a definite move to patch up its differences with the Chicago Public High School league, which supervises almost all preparatory school sports in the metropolitan area.

The two organizations became parties to a dispute last December when Chicago's Fenger High accepted an invitation to play a post-season football game in Florida in violation of the association rules. Fenger subsequently was suspended.

The legislative commission of the association yesterday approved an amendment which provides that the Chicago league can continue to operate as it pleases except when competing with schools in Illinois outside the metropolitan area. The proposal also would allow league members to become members of the association for a minimum fee of $5.

The amendment and four others approved now await action by the high school principals at the annual association meeting Nov. 7 in Urbana.

Provisions of the other four amendments follow:

1. The age limit for inter-scholastic athletics was lowered from 20 to 19 under certain conditions, effective next September.

2. An athlete may complete the football season if he becomes 19 after Feb. 1 and May 1 he would be eligible to May 1.

3. He becomes 19 after May 1 he would be eligible the rest of the year.

4. Eliminate spring football practice.

5. Football practice may start on Aug. 25 instead of on Sept. 1 as under present regulations.

6. All schools must practice three weeks before engaging in a football game.

Walkout May End Detroit Symphony
Detroit, Oct. 14.—(AP)—Bruno Walter cooled his heels in his hotel suite today, a guest conductor with a baton but no orchestra.
When Walter, here to conduct the Detroit Symphony Orchestra in its opening concert of the season Thursday night, arrived at Masonic Temple yesterday for the first rehearsal, he was greeted by a lone bass fiddler.
Eighty others in the orchestra had staged a walkout.
While Walter sought an explanation the orchestra members met in nearby club rooms of the Detroit Federation of Musicians and vowed there would be no more rehearsals unless the 21-week symphony season was extended.
Said Orchestra Manager Murray G. Paterson, "It might be described as a musical discord."
Paterson, who declared an extension of the season was financially impossible, took a hopeful view of the situation.
But to Dr. Fred T. Murphy, president of the Detroit Symphony Society, the orchestra's action "may well mean the end of the Detroit Symphony."

Illinois Pioneers Once Tried to Make Silk

Illinois pioneers more than a century ago tried to produce silk through silkworms and mulberry trees imported from the orient, according to the Illinois Writers' Project, W. P. A. The first effort was made on the land known as the "Military Tract", in 1829. From a seafaring relative, a woman obtained some silkworms which she placed on the leaves of the American mulberry tree. From the cocoons she wove and exhibited a few strands of silk thread. This started a small boom. More silkworms, and some mulberry trees were imported from China.
